We are pleased to be joined by Mr. Kevin Edmunds COO of Business Environmental Council who will provide a briefing for members on the Building Design to Foster a Quality and Sustainable Built Environment engagement process from the Council for Sustainable Development (CSD)

Buildings consume nearly 90% of the electricity used in Hong Kong and account for 65% of Hong Kong's carbon footprint. Therefore a sustainable built environment that meets the economic, social and environmental perspectives is critical. This engagement process will seek views on the following three areas:

- Ways to achieve sustainable design in terms of building separation, building setback from narrow streets and greenery
- Balancing the need for essential, green and amenity features of buildings against the increase in building height and size that they create
- Improving energy efficiency through more effective building design

The CSD has created an Invitation for Response (IR) document, it outlines the background and current situations of our built environment, potential solutions and how these solutions, if implemented, will affect the built environment and eventually our living quality.

The IR document is available from a dedicated website (www.susdev.org.hk) and District Offices. This public engagement process will close on 31, October, 2009.

Members are encouraged to send their views to the Council Secretariat (Email: comments@susdev.org.hk; Fax: 3150 8168; Mail: Sustainable Development Division, M/F Murray Building, Garden Road, Central, Hong Kong).
